SUFFOCATED IN A VAULT

SCHOOL GIRLS MEET A HORRIBLE DEATH

Thirty Children Thrown Into a Vault of Filth by Giving Away of Floor—Nine Lose Their Lives.

Cincinnati, Sept. 23.—At Pleasant Ridge, seven miles north of Cincinnati, nine, possibly ten, school girls, all from the primary grades, were suffocated in a vault during the forenoon recess and a score of others narrowly escaped the same horrible death. During the remainder of the day thus suburb was wild with mingled excitement, sorrow and indignation and to night those openly charging the calamity to official negligence are making serious threats.

When recess was given about thirty of the smaller girls were in the outhouse assigned them, when suddenly the floor gave way, precipitating them into the vault of filth. The vault is twelve feet deep. There was four feet of water or filth that would have been over the heads of the girls falling in it singly, but those falling foremost filled the vault so that the others were not entirely submerged.

The girls fell eight feet from the flooring before striking the filth and the struggles of those on top kept at least nine underneath until they were dead. The frame sheds over these vaults were about twenty feet square without windows and only one narrow doorway, so that only one little girl escaped from the door. She ran into the school building and told the teachers what had happened. Principal Simmerman and lady teachers rushed to the rescue. The ladies gave the alarm about the vicinity, while Simmerman secured a ladder on which the drenching girls climbed out, most of them fainting as soon as they reached the surface.

WORK OF RESCUE.

The teachers were reinforced by the entire population of the town and police and fire departments. The children able to climb out on the ladders themselves were rescued by Simmerman, who finally fainted. Then others went into the vault and kept bringing out dead bodies until the vault was cleared. Firemen drained the vault so as to be sure the rescue was complete.

Those engaged in rescue work recite the most ghastly experiences. Even those rescued alive presented such an appearance as to make many in the crowd of spectators faint, but the sight within the vault beggared all description. Children who were on top of the writhing heap were rescued first. While they were getting out of the vault their feet crowded relentlessly down others who were meeting a most agonizing death.

THOUGHTFUL BOY.

James Smith, aged 14, one of the pupils, climbed to the roof of the school house, untied the flag and ran with the rope to the evault. By means of this rope several were rescued.

Marshal Wood had great difficulty in keeping the crowd back and from interfering with the rescuers. Importunities of friends, especially of weeping mothers, were almost beyond the control of the officers.

CARRIED OUT DEAD CHILD.

A pathetic incident is told by Frank S. Johnson, one of the rescuers. John Sternkamp insisted upon going into the vault to rescue his little girl, but when it was shown he would only interfere with the little ones who were then climbing out he waited. When he found his little girl was not among those rescued he entered the vault and carried out several bodies among them that of his little girl. He did not know he had carried out the body of his daughter until informed by others, then he fainted. At the same time there were other parents in the waiting crowd that fainted when it was announced all the living had been rescued and their children were still missing.

THE DEAD.

LORETTA FINK, aged 12.
EMMA STERNKAMP, 13.
AMELIA HESSE, 9.
MARTHA BUHRE, 8.
EDNA THEE, 10.
LILLIAN WITHAM, 13.
HAZEL GLOVER, 8.
FAUSTA CARD, 11.
CLARMINA CARD, 9.

Telia Corless, aged 10, one of the rescued, is reported to night to be in a dying condition.

GIRDERS WERE ROTTEN.

The trustees say the floors were repaired during vacation and nothing wrong was noticed with the girders. An examination of the wrecked girders after to day's accident, it is said, showed them to be rotten. Janitor Smith states that he had told members of the board that the place was not safe.

ANTI-MILITARY DISTURBANCE.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 23.—The disturbance which occurred at Odessa last week was not an anti-Jewish one, but anti-military, caused by reserve men who refused to go to the far east. A detachment of regular troops sent to suppress the disturbance is said to have refused to obey orders.

SLOCUM INQUIRY

Reports Made by Board of Inspectors—Licencesof Officers Revoked.

New York, Sept. 23.—Steamboat inspectors who have made inquiry into the steamer General Slocum disaster last June, when nearly a thousand lives were lost, in their report revoke the licenses of Captain VanSvhaick, Edward Vanwert, pilot, and Benjamin Conklin, chief engineer. The board finds life preservers inadequate; that there was a lack of discipline on the part of the crew because of the negligence of Van Schieck and Van wert; that the crew was ignorant and incompetent; that Conklin was guilty of gross negligence in not seeing that the hose was properly connected and water turned on when notified the vessel was on fire.

Second Engineer Brandow is highly praised for remaining at his post and manipulating the machinery, acording to the inspectors' view. The great mortality as due to the impossibility of equipping 1,5000 persons, mostly children, in a few minutes and not to the age of the preservers. It is our opoinion, the report declares, that if the Slocum had been supplied with a double quantity of life saving equipments, with a crew as incompetent as the crew of the steamer proved to be, not a single life more would have been saved than was saved.

CANTERBURY IN WRECK.

East Brookfield, Mass., Sept. 23.—A special train conveying Archbishop Canterbury from Bar Harbor to Washington was wrecked on the Boston and Albany here to day. The archbishop was not injured, although badly shaken up. J. P. Morgan, accompanying the archbishop, was shaken up, but not hurt. The accident was caused by the collision of a light engine with the special. Several trainmen were badly hurt.

THE PRESIDENT

Appears at His Desk in Executive Offices—Short Cabinet Meeting.

Washington, Sept. 23.—President Roosevelt appeared early to day at his desk in the executive offices. Little work of importance was ready for presentation to him, as nearly all matters were cleared away while he was at Oyster Bay. This was the regular cabinet day, but only four members are in the city, Secretaries Morton, Wilson and Hitchcock and Postmaster General Payne. The meeting was short, devoted principally to an informal discussion of the political situation.

SHOT DURING RIOT.

Pittsburg, Sept. 23.—G. W. Fidlar while guarding property of the Pittsburg Steel company at Glassport, Pa., was fatally shot at midnight in a riot between about twenty-five strikers and the same number of men employed in the mill and deputies. Two non-union men were badly beaten with clubs and stones.

WISCONSIN TRAGEDY

Son and Daughter Accused of Murdering Their Father.

Rhinelander, Wis., Sept. 23.—The dead body of Louis Donnerstad, aged 60, with skull crushed and two bullet holes in it, was brought here to day. Information as to his condition was sent by a daughter, who stated her father had committed suicide. The daughter and Sadie Slack, who had been staying at Donnerstad's home, are under arrest and officers are looking for Hugh Donnerstad, a son, who escaped to the woods prior to the officers' arrival. Donenrstad did not approve of his son's attentions to Miss Slack and is said to have driven her from his house with a butcher knife. He had served a term in Waupon prison, charged with killing a Soo line brakeman about twelve years ago. Indications are the man was first shot and not dying instantly his head was beaten with an axe.

KILLED BY MARSHAL.

Des Moines, Sept. 23.—Marshal Dan Ellis of Lineville, Iowa, shot and killed Bill Wallace, a hotel proprietor, to day. Ellis claims the killing was in self-defense and has surrendered himself.

WATSON IN TEXAS.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 23.—Thomas Watson, Populist candidate for president, to night delivered an address to a great crowd of people assembled here from the surrounding country. He was given close attention.

Patton, Pa., Sept. 23.—The negro arrested yesterday for an assault on Mrs. Boggan was released to day by his captor, Constable Jackson, the prisoner having proven an alibi. Three hundred infuriated citizens discredit the constable's story and believe it s a ruse to prevent violence To day men, led by the father, husband and brothers of the victim,are still search ing for the constable, whom they believe has the negro in custody.

MOVEMENTS OF JAPANESE

IN MANCHURIA VEILED BY SECRECY

Correspondents Unable to Secure Developments—Telegram Concerning Port Arthur Said to Have Reached Emperor.

Secrecy veils the movements of the Japanese armies in Manchuria and little that is indicative of the developments in the situation is permitted to reach the correspondents. Apparently four Japanese armies are converging upon Mukden, but although the distance to be covered is not great several days are expected to elapse before there ensues a battle with the forces under Kuropatkin. Improvement in weather conditions is regarded as advantageous to the Japanese. There is no news from the direction of Port Arthur, though it seems probable that fighting is in progress there. There is no confirmation of the report that the Russian cruiser Gromobol has left Vladivostok in pursuit of a Japanese transport.

Paris, Sept. 24.—The Matin's St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs:

"Telegrams of which the general staff have as yet no knowledge, reached the emperor at 4 o'clock this morning. I can affirm they concern Port Arthur, regarding which place the greatest anxiety prevails at court. The Japanese are now engaged in a general assault, which is more furious than its predecessors, attacking the town on three sides simultaneously and employing their whole forces, being determined to finish the business. Russian mines blew up whole battalions. General Fock especially distinguished himself directing the fire from a wall which the Japanese reached after indescribable massacre. The whole of Togo's and Kamamura's squadrons are aiding in the struggle, which, it is feared here, will be final. The besieged forces are fighting as in a furnace. A perfect storm of shell is falling on the town, port and fortress from the whole hill and roadstead. General Stoessel is going from fort to fort encouraging the defenders in their desperate efforts.

"In St. Petersburg facts concerning the tgaric event, which perhaps will terminate by a glorious fall of Port Arthur, are wholly unknown. At court hope has not yet been entirely abandoned."

Chefoo, Sept. 24.—A Japanese who has arrived from Dalny says the battle which began at Port Arthur Sept. 19 continued during Sept. 20, but he is unable to give details of the fighting. Sept. 21 and 22 the Japanese bombardment was slight. On the 19th some heavy guns, lately placed opened fire from a quarter which has previously been silent. Every window in Dalny shook. The firing continued heavy during the night of Sept. 20.

Chinese arrived her esay while off Miaotao islands yesterday they heard firing from 10 in the morning until 4in the afternoon.

WAR REPORTS.

Tokio, Sept. 23.—An official telegram reports that fights have taken place at the towns of Tuo Ling and San Lung Ku, sixty miles northeast of Liao Yang, Sept 20. Russians, who were driven off to the northward, left nineteen dead. Japanese losses were very slight.

Tsintau, Sept. 23.—A Russian naval officer here has received official advices that cholera has appeared at Port Arthur.

London, Sept. 23.—The Standard's correspondent with the Japanese army, under date of Sept. 17, comments on Kuropatkin's failure to attack to the south or east as showing Kuropatkin's vacuity. He says that at one time the Russians outnumbered the Japanese and that they have now lost their only chance of assuming the offensive before the release of the Japanese troops before Port Arthur.

EGAN AND LYON

Will Contest for Olympian Golf Championship to Day.

St. Louis, Sept. 23.—Finals to morrow for the Olympian golf championship will be contested in real international style by the United States Golf association champion, H. Chandler Egan of Exmoor, and George S. Lyon, of Toronto, Canada. Each won his match to day in the semi-final game, Egan defeating B. P. McKinnie, of St. Louis, 4 up 3 to play. It was not untill the last putt was sold on the 36 green that the Canadian ex-champion elminated from the tourney F. O. Newton, of Seattle, Wash. Battling hard for two rounds, victory appearing to rest first with the Pacific coast man and then with his veteran rival, Newton had to succumb to hard luck and lost, 1 down.

KILLED AT CROSSING.

Pittsburg, Sept. 23.—Two men, one woman and a baby were killed at a crossing at Braddock to night by a Pennsylvania fast express. They had just alighted from a street car and started across the tracks on their way home when run down by the train.

War Department,
Washington, D. C.

My Dear Mr. President: I beg to express my regret at not being able to be with you. I congratulate you on the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of your institution of learning and earnestly hope for the continued welfare and increased prosperity of your college. If the enthusiasm and energy of the president of Illinois college are any measure, as they doubtless are, of its progress and growth, it has and deserves a bright future. Very sincerely yours, W. H. TAFT,
Secretary of War.

New York, Sept. 15, 1904.

My Dear Dr. Barnes: I am sorry that duties here make it impossible for me to accept your invitation. I do not think that the country will realize how much it owes to the educational and religious pioneers who made the school. The college and church keep pace with agriculture and precede trade and commerce, planting these instruments for the development of the higher life in the wilderness where the sod of the prairie has not been turned by the plow and where the echo of the woodman's axe was still heard in the uncleared forests. A prominent place has been occupied in this pioneer work of education by Illinois college and I am very glad to know that its seventy-fifth anniversary is to be commemorated with appropriate ceremonies. Yours sincerely, LYMAN ABBOTT.

INDICATIONS.

Washington, Sept. 24.—For Illinois: Fair in the south, showers in the north Saturday; Sunday fair, cooler, fresh southwest to northwest winds.

HIT LOAD OF DYNAMITE

Train Wrecked and Two Lives Lost on Baltimore & Ohio Road.

Cumberland, Md., Sept. 24.—Fast freight No. 99 on the Baltimore & Ohio struck a wagon loaded with 750 pounds of dynamite at a crossing at North Branch, W. Va., this afternoon and two persons were killed and nine injured, three of them seriously. The Baltimore & Ohio tower was wrecked, as were several residences nearby. James Laing, who drove the wagon, escaped with only trivial injuries, as did the two horses, although the latter were blown fifty yards into a field.

The engine was overturned and stripped and seven cars following, loaded with high grade merchandise, were broken, several being demolished. The tracks were thrown out of the bed, while the rails were snapped like pipe stems.

THE ODD FELLOWS.

San Francisco, Sept. 23.—The Odd Fellows' parade to day was composed of fourteen divisions and included many floats of attractive design. Brig. Gen. E. H. Black was grand marshal. The parade was reviewed in front of the city hall by Grand Sire Goodwin and other officers of the sovereign grand lodge and grand encampment.

LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN.

Buffalo, Sept. 23.—The question of removing the headquarters of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen from Peoria, Ill., to a larger city is attracting the attention of delegates to night of the convention of that order. Buffalo and Cleveland are candidates, while Peoria's friends are making a fight to have the headquarters left there.

The ladies' society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen to day elected officers and adjourned. Officers include: Grand president, Mrs. G. M. Sargent, Washington, D. C.; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Mary E. Dubois, Boone, Iowa; trustees, Mrs. Sadie Scheennell, Huntington, Iowa, and Mrs. Watts, Peoria, Ill.; member executive board, Mrs. Mary E. Coffee, Clinton, Iowa.

NO FRICTION.

Flossmoor, Ill., Sept. 23.—John F. Wallace, chief engineer of the isthmian canal commission, and as such in direct charge of the construction of the canal, is at home for two weeks after a busy summer in the canal zone. In an interview to night Wallace emphatically denied that there was any friction between himself and General Davis, governor of the canal zone. On the contrary, he says, they have always worked in perfect harmony.

PRIZE AWARDS.

San Francisco, Sept. 23.—Announcements of the winners of the cash prize drills of the cantons attending the sovereign grand lodge of Odd Fellows was made to night. The first prize of $1,000 was won by Washington, D. C., canton.

A DOMESTIC QUARREL.

Cincinnati, Sept. 23.—During a quarrel here to night Michael Hemerial struck his wife with a hatchet, inflicting probably fatal wounds. Hemerial then shot himself through the heart.

STARTS ON WESTERN TRIP

FAIRBANKS LEAVES FOR PACIFIC COAST

Begins Speech Making in Minnesota to Day—Meeting of Republican Clubs—Other Political News.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Senator Fairbanks arrived in Chicago to day on his way to the Pacific coast. He spent the day in conference with Republican leaders in the city preparatory to starting on his western tour to night.

Secretary Shaw arrived from the west during the day and left later for Indiana in extension of his campaign tour. He speaks confidentially of Republican prospects in the west.

Senator Spooner was also a visitor in the city. He expressed the opinion the supreme court decision on the Wisconsin state ticket, whatever it may be, would have no injurious effect upon the Republican national ticket.

The itinerary of Senator Fairbanks' western tour has been extendede so as to provide for two days of speech making in Iowa and one in Illinois on the return trip. Oct. 11 and 12 will be spent in Iowa and the 13th in Illinois, closing with a meeting in Chicago on the night of Oct. 13th. Fairbanks will be accompanied by Senator Doolittle throughout the tour.

The entire day to morrow will be spent in Minnesota, closing at St. Paul with a night meeting. There will be nine stopping places in Congressman Tawney's district and that gentleman will accompany the party to morrow.

REPUBLICAN CLUBS.

New York, Sept. 23.—Final details for the national convention of Republican clubs at Indianapolis Oct. 5th and 6th, were arranged to day at a conference between Secretary Cortelyou and Sid B. Redding, treasurer of the league. Provisions have been made for the accommodation of a thousand delegates. Senator Fairbanks, Secretary Shaw, Secretary of War Taft, Senator Beveridge and George E. Knight, of California, will address the mass meeting at Indianapolis.

CANNON IN NEBRASKA.

Falls City, Neb., Sept. 23.—Speaker Cannon to day began a five days' tour of Nebraska, his first address being in this city this afternoon. He will spend Sunday in Hastings and will be accompanied on a greater part of the Nebraska trip by Governor Mickey.

PARKER IN NEW YORK.

New York, Sept. 23.—Judge Parker's conferences with prominent Democratic leaders continued all day. Chairman Taggart, Arthur P. Gorman, Daniel S. Lamont and Daniel J. Campau were among those who discussed the campaign with the candidate. Many members of the national committee to day urged Parker to reconsider his decision not to make a speaking tour, but it is said he told every one that all speeches would be from his own veranda at Rosemont.

SECRETARY SHAW IN INDIANA.

Elkhart, Ind., Sept. 23.—Secretary Shaw was the principal speaker at a Republican meeting here to night. His address was confined chiefly to tariff and protection.

CLERK ARRESTED

Accused of Selling Bogus Naturalization Certificates.

New York, Sept. 23.—Secret service detectives to day arrested Sebastian Fasanello, a clerk in the first municipal court, on charge of selling bogus federal naturalization certificates. It is said the arrest may lead to sensational developments tending to expose the head of a syndicate which for several years has been supplying Italians with fraudulent naturalization papers.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL REPORT.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—The fifty-fourth annual report of the Illinois Central railroad for the year ended June 30 last shows increase in gross earnings of 3.61 per cent over a year ago. Operating expenses during the past year show an increase of $2,957,367 over the previous year, making decrease in net earnings $1,393,668. This is due, it is said, to prolonged and intense cold last winter, increased cost of fuel and increased wages of employes. Gross receipts during the year were $46,831,000, net earnings $8,865,000.

FIRE LOSSES.

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 23.—Fire at Warrensburg destroyed a block of business buildings and the postoffice and opera house. Loss, $20,000.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR.

Springfield, Sept. 23.—The grand lodge of Illinois Knights of Honor to day adjourned to meet in Springfield in September, 1906. Officers were elected, headed by H. H. Gilmore, grand director.

DEATHS.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Gen. Harrison Allen, deputy auditor for the postoffice department, died suddenly to day, ager 69

MADE NEW RECORD

Prince Alert Paces Mile on Half Mile Track in 2:03½—Races at Columbus.

Allentown, Pa., Sept. 23.—Before a crowd of 10,000 persons, Prince Alert, driven by Jack Curry, to day established a new half mile track record by pacing a mile in 2:03½ without a wind shield, at the Allentown fair races. He made the same time at Bethlehm, Pa., Sept. 19, last year, but a shield was then used to achieve it. The time by quarters to day: 29½, 1:00, 1:31, 2:03½. Conditions to day were perfect for fast time.

GRAND CIRCUIT MEETING.

Columbus, Sept. 23.—Favorites were to day overthrown in the last day's races of the Columbus circuit meeting.

WORK OF ROBBERS

Hold up Clerks and Take Suit Case Containing $4,400.

San Francisco, Sept. 23.—Compelling two clerks to go into a room at the point of a revolver to be made prisoners, a masked man to day took a suit case containing $4,400 and records and papers belonging to the Central Grain and Stock Exchange at 20 Liedesdorff street and then escaped. The clerks are employed by the exchange and were carrying the suit case containing gold, silver and paper into the office through a passageway in the rear of the office when they were confronted by the robber. His revolver caused them to obey his commands and after they entered the room he tied their hands to a hook in the wall, took the suit case and departed. The clerks released themselves after some trouble and notified the police of the robbery.

JEWELER DISAPPEARS.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Frederick B. Hoover, an Albion, Ind., jeweler, who arrived in Chicago yesterday, has disappeared. His wife fears he has been the victim of robbers, as he carried almost $12,000 with him. He left his hotel, intending to visit the wholesale houses and buy jewelry with which to open a jewelry store at Albion.

CRANBERRY CROP INJURED.

Sandwich, Mass., Sept. 23.—A heavy frost last night has ruined a large part of the cranberry crop which remained unharvested in this section of the state. About a third of the crop had been housed

LADY URZON'S CONDITION.

London, Sept. 23.—The condition of Lady Curzon is still critical, but slightly improved this morning.

FIRE LOSSES.

Boston, Sept. 23.—The warerooms of the Abbott-Dowing Carriage company burned to day. Loss, $50,000.

WILL BE ELECTROCUTED.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio, Sept. 23.—The circuit court has affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of Philip Nagle, who is awaiting electrocution for the murder of William Wade. The new date set for Nagle's electrocution is Nov. 25.

INCREASE IN FALL TRADE

COOL WEATHER HAS STIMULATING EFFECT

Marked Improvement Noted in Various Lines—Confidence Increases With Harvesting of Crops.

New York, Sept. 23.—Bradstreet's trade review says: Cool weather, while retarding or injuring some late crops, has been stimulating to fall trade, both wholesale and retail, which shows an apparent increase in volume over a year ago. Improvement is most marked in dry goods, clothing, groceries, shoes and hardware. Distributive trade is better in the northwest, portions of the east and very generally throughout the south. The central west also shows continuance of improvement, noted last week and widespread moderate betterment in collections is a feature deserving special mention. A disposition is shown on the part of farmers to hold their products for better prices. Among industries some improvement is noted in cruder forms of iron; buying of pig is rather better, particularly in portions of the west, but finished products fail to respond, liberally to recent price reductions. Some eastern industries, notably jewelry, silverware and machine tools, report improvement, but the cotton goods industry still pursues a halting course, price uncertainties breeding conservatism. Wool has been firm this week, statistical position being a strong one, firmness being aided by reports of further contemplated advances in finished product. Dress woolens have been and are in good demand, but men's wear fabrics have hardly moved as fast as desired.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week were 804,000 bushels, against 3,050,000 last year; July 1 to date, 16,260,000, against 36,215,000 last year.

Corn exports for the week were 657,000 bushels, against 770,000 a year ago; July 1 to date, 6,847,000 bushels, against 11,605,000 in 1903.

DUN'S REPORT.

New York, Sept. 23.—Dun's review says: Trade expands steadily as confidence increases with harvesting of crops and mercantile collections are less tardily met. Lower temperature stimulates demand for fall and winter wearing apparel and there is more disposition to prepare for the future rather than to confine operations within the limit of immediate requirements. This improvement is extending to all departments of manufacture and in the aggregate there is less idle machinery than at any recent date. Settlements of labor disputes helped in the development of this favorable condition. Railway earnings for September were 6.7 per cent larger than a year ago and foreign commerce at this port for the last week shows a gain of $2,945,087 in exports, compared with 1903, although imports decreased $713,670.

Moderate gains continue to be made by textile industries, particularly as to woolens and worsteds. Staple lines are quoted somewhat higher and prompt deliveries are urged by purchasers. Increased activity at the mills has helped to sustain the eastern markets for wool. Boot and shoe jobbers are seeking to place supplementary orders for fall shoes, stipulating quick delivery, which indicates their holdings are small.

Failures this week agregate 225 in the United States, against 233 last year.

BANK CLEARINGS.

New York, Sept. 23.—Total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet's, for the past week were $2,138,756,807, an increase of 20.6 per cent compared with the corresponding week last year.

ARTS AND SCIENCES.

St. Louis, Sept. 23.—One of the most interesting addresses made at the present session of the congress of arts and science was that of Dr. William H. Maxwell, superintendent of public schools of New York city, who was the principal speaker in the sectional meeting of the department of education to day.

BIRTHDAY DINNER.

Mrs. Mollie Smith entertained a company at dinner Friday in honor of her birthday. The affair proved to be a delightful one for all who participated. Among those from out of the city who were present were Mrs. John Challans and Mrs. Joseph Challans, of Waverly.

WOMAN FELL FROM BALLOON.

Phillipsburg, Kan., Sept. 23.—Mrs. George Hendricks fell from a balloon into Rock Island lake here to day and was drowned. She made the ascent successfully, but when she made the parachute leap the parachute failed to work properly.

SPECTACULAR SCENE.

Naples, Sept. 23.—The eruption of Vesuvius to night was the most spectacular witnessed in the last ten years. A great stream of lava was discharged, threatening wide destruction. The espectacle was witnessed by thousands of awe-stricken persons.

IT SEEMS NEARER THAN EVER BEFORE

The City Council With a Full Attendance Passes the New Ordinance by a Vote of Ten to Two—Alds. Vaught and Kennedy Voting No.

The city council met in called session Friday morning ready for business. The ordinance with the amendments agreed upon at the Monday night meeting had been carefully prepared by City Attorney Morrissey, City Clerk Stewart and Ald. Vaught for the ordinance committee, and was ready for consideration. It was read section by section and each part was carefully discussed where it was deemed necessary. A strenuous effort was made by Ald. Vaught, strenuously seconded by Ald. Kennedy and indorsed by Alds. Doolin and Higgins, to amend the measure requiring it to be indorsed by a vote of the people before it should become a law, but the other eight were opposed and the amendment was lost, and when put on its final passage the measure carried by a vote of ten to two, Ald. Vaught and Kennedy still holding out, not for anything in the ordinance, but from an unwillingness to take such great responsibility.

THE PROCEEDINGS.

The council met with all members present; Mayor John R. Davis in the chair.

Ald. McGinnis called attention to the claim of the Bryant property on South Clay avenue that the sanitary committee had decided to settle for $100.

Ald. Moore thought it wise to put the agreement on record.

Ald. Cobb said the people had agreed to waive all claims against the city.

Alds. Cobb and Hildreth moved the report be adopted.

Carried.

The mayor called for the report of the ordinance committee and Ald. Vaught said the amended measure was in the hands of the clerk, who read it.

The ordinance was read and considered section by section.

Regarding the word "demand in the third section, Ald. Moore thought it was rather broad and might be used to the detriment of the company.

Ald. Vaught said no city would be unjust to a company which meant to do the fair thing. I fail to see why any alderman should try to protect this company, for Mr. Mackey is here to see to that and all other such matters.

Mr. Mackey—I noticed that word. It is pretty severe, but the city could not do an unjust thing. As Mr. Vaught says, if the company does the right thing the city will, and the courts would protect the company in an unjust demand.

The matter pertained to the provision that the company should supply as much water as the city might demand and at least 3,000,000 gallons a day. Mr. Mackey was willing to let it stand.

Regarding the pumping station; whether it was to be excepted from the ordinance, as noted in section 5, Ald. Vaught said he was on the fence, whether it was better to leave it intact to be used in case of emergency, or to have it dismantled and sold for what it will bring. He thought it might be well to have the company required to keep up the plant and then if not needed a different bargain might be made later.

Ald. Hildreth favored keeping it up for two or three years.

Ald. Govcia agreed and thought it was so understood.

Ald. Babb thought the works should be turned over to the company, so they could use them in case of accident and let the company keep it up.

Ald. Kennedy—I see no place in the ordinance where we have the right to use the mains in case of accident. It is a mixed affair. If you take the plant from the company there is no way they can use it. It should be provided that the city could use the plant and mains in case of emergency.

Ald. Babb though it should be turned over to the company, as they were responsible for the city's supply of water.

Ald. Johnson thought the city would be reasonable in case of emergency, but he didn't believe in letting the company have the plant and supply any kind of water they choose.

Ald. Cobb thought there should be some provision by which the city could use the plant and lake in case of accident for a short time and then if not needed dismantle and sell.

Ald. Ticknor said there was a possibility of trouble and thought the plant should be available for several years in some way.

Ald. Kennedy said nothing in the ordinance defined an emergency. He thought the city would have to help the company out in case of emergency as the measure now reads. The plant should revert to the city in case of failure of the company to supply the city.

Ald. Govcia didn't think there was a city in Illinois which had two sources of supply. The plant was of no use to the city, nor should it be turned over to the company.

Ald. McGinnis agreed. The city depends on the company for water.

Mr. Mackey—I agree with the gentlemen. We expect to supply the city with water and we don't want the plant. If you turn the plant over to us to use in emergency you must let us use Morgan lake, but we don't think there will be any accident which will last more than 24 hours, so we shall have enough water on hand to run the city that long.

Ald. Kennedy still urged the need of defining an emergency.

The Mayor—I feel the plant should be maintained a while by either the company or city. If the company is willing we should get them to do so and then we should let the company use Morgan lake and the need of that should be decided by the city council.

Ald. Kennedy—But when would there be an end to these emergencies?

The Mayor—No council would dare permit such things long. The people wouldn't stand it.

Ald. Vaught—As I understand it, the plant and lake are out of this whole deal as the ordinance now stands.

The Mayor—We should decide now whether we want the company to maintain the plant and lake if needed or keep the plant ourselves.

Ald. Vaught—If the city keeps the plant all right, but if the company is to have it there will be changes needed, for we have bound the company to supply the city only from the river sand beds.

Ald. Moore—It might be safe to retain the plant a few years to see how the company gets along.

It was finally agreed that the lake, adjacent lands, the pumping station and adjacent lands should be wholly left out of the deal and remain the sole property of the city, so that the company will be shut up solely to the river sand beds for the supply of water to the city.

The question of rates then came up and were generally discussed. Private house bath tubs were made $2.50 for the first and $2.00 each for additional tubs.

It was provided that at the expiration of 30 years from the acceptance of the ordinance by the company the city should have the right to buy the works at a price equitably agreed on by both parties.

Ald. Kennedy said it had been claimed that the hydrant rental named in the ordinance, $40 a year, was less than paid by any city in the state to a private company. The rate in Quincy was $30 a year.

Ald. Kennedy said there should be an ordinance compelling persons living on streets about to be paved to make sewer, gas and water connections to the curbing.

The mayor said the city engineer had urged such an ordinance, but there was only a resolution.

Action at the present meeting was not practicable.

After the ordinance had been read Ald. Vaught asked Mr. Mackey if the measure was satisfactory.

Mr. Mackey—I regard it so, though the last provision, requiring the works to revert to the city in case of failure to supply the quantity of water provided in the ordinance, though I think the men I represent will accept it and go on with the work if the ordinance is adopted.

Ald. Vaught then offered an amendment, submitting the measure to a vote of the people and that it should require a majority of the voters of the city. He said in brief: This measure is too important to be decided by the council. Very few men who have studied the ordinance and understand it have approved it. There has been a decided change in public opinion in regard to this measure and there have been many adverse expressions. We have had the matter before us but a short time and are we prepared to shoulder the responsibility of doing this thing?

Ald. Hildreth—Is not this as good as the Mayhon ordinance, which the people seemed to indorse?

Ald. Vaught—Much better, but later the people were opposed to it. I am not willing to risk my future on this measure and wake up a few months hence and find a boomerang ready to strike me. I think the election would cost the city little or nothing. Steps are now being taken to tie this thing up legally and if the people vote for the matter we are not to blame.

Ald. Kennedy—I move the adoption of the amendment.

Ald. Vaught—I second.

The Mayor—On this subject I would like to offer a few remarks. I am ready to take all the responsibility attached to this measure. We are here to rep—

Ald. Vaught—I rise to a point of order.

The Mayor—State your point.

Ald. Vaught—This is a matter to be passed on by the council. What we do we are responsible for and should decide for ourselves without any words from the chair.

The Mayor—I suppose the remarks are directed at me. Am I not a part of the council?

Ald. Vaught—Not in this sense. The mayor talks as if he were a member of the council, but as I understand it the mayor is a presiding officer whose duty is to pass on what we do. If he is not satisfied with it he has a chance to be heard in a veto or in a committee of the whole. The speaker of the house never discusses a measure without leaving his chair and calling some member to it and that rarely, and the same with the vice president, who presides over the senate. If the mayor favors any action he should convey those wishes to the council in a message. In almost every instance when anything of importance has been before the council the mayor has expressed his opinions on the matter from the chair, which, I think, is out of order. I do not think he should ask to speak as he does.

The mayor—This is the first time the claim has been made that I am not a member of the council. Mr. Vaught says that I have spoken on most of the important subjects brought up before the council. I am glad that is true. I have the courage of my convictions and am not afraid to say what I honestly believe. At the same time I shall give way to any member of the council who has anything to say.

Ald. Cobb—My mind is made up and I shall vote for the passage of the ordinance now.

Ald. Moore—As far as the mayor speaking is concerned, I think the aldermen should have the right first and after that I can see no impropriety in hearing the mayor. Ald. Vaught's idea seems to be that the mayor is taking too much part in the proceedings and that the aldermen are not speaking freely. As far as the amendment is concerned, it sounds fair, but I feel certain this is something the people want. We shall not add to the burden of taxation. The ordinance will benefit all; the poorest as well as the wealthiest. I think an election would be in favor of the ordinance, but I do not regard it as at all necessary and feel it would be a needless expense.

Ald. Govela—I am opposed to the amendment. It is not fair to ask a majority of all the votes at the last general election, for it would be hard to get them out on a proposition like this. I think the people have confidence in the council. This is no new thing. It has been before the people for years and is well understood. I favor action

Ald. Kennedy—This is a large affair. I have talked to a great many people, taxpayers especially, and found a great majority of all I addressed against this measure. I don't think we were put here to give this water works system away for nothing. No man in Jacksonville would make such a contract.

Ald. Hildreth—From a business and sanitary standpoint I am in favor of this ordinance.

Ald. Ticknor—I regret not hearing from the mayor. I favor settling this question now. I think I know the feeling of my constituents. It looks cowardly to ask this amendment. The city is indebted much to the state institutions and should have them in mind. The Deaf and Dumb has spent thousands for water, but will doubtless take from the company.

Ald. Cobb—This is an important measure and I fully realize the responsibility resting on us. I have no interests anywhere else. This is the best thing we can do and let the people know through the press what we do. We have done our best for water in the past, and how poor the result. If I thought there was any possibility of the city doing this I would favor it, but I do not. Not long ago there was an ordinance like this and it seemed to please. I have talked to many and with one exception have found people in favor of the ordinance properly amended. I realize the importance of the measure and am ready to vote for it. I think Ald. Vaught and the men with him deserve credit for what they have done preparing the ordinance.

Ald. Babb—I see no need of submitting this matter to the people. The measure is in good shape and we are in better condition to act on this than the people in general and it looks like baby play to refer to the people. The city is well guarded in the measure and I am ready to vote for it. I see no cause for going to the people.

Ald. McGinnis—I am in favor of this proposition and am ready to vote for it. Have talked with many and found them for the measure.

Ald. Doolin—I think this too important for us to pass. Ald. Vaught has done very well in his work.

Ald. Johnson—If I thought it wise to send the measure back to the people I would vote so, but do not. The council has carefully studied this measure and is best now ready to act.

The mayor—Before the ordinance is signed by me it will pass the rigid scrutiny of good legal talent and all interests of the city will be well guarded. If any person whatever will show me any good reason why I should withhold my signature I will do so. If adopted I shall have copies printed and placed where all interested may see them and study the measure carefully if they wish. I want nothing but the best interests of the city always. We have tried to go carefully. This measure is much like the one passed two years ago and that was generally indorsed by the people as a good thing for the city if it had been carried out. I do not think the people have lost faith in the council. If the Mayhon ordinance was so good a thing for him and so bad for the city, surely somebody would have found it out and taken advantage of it. We have a good ordinance, carefully drawn by Mr. Vaught and the city attorney. As for enjoining the matter, the same statement was made two years ago, but nothing was done about it, for it was examined by excellent attorneys and pronounced proof. All doubtful features were against the grantees then as now. This ordinance will be carefully examined and if anything wrong is found in it it will be sent back to the council for correction. I have talked about this matter with a great many men and have found scarcely any who are opposed to it. Not one in a hundred of those who have expressed themselves to me were against it. I think it should be passed and to day; I am ready to vote.

Ald. Vaught—I am willing to accept Ald. Govela's suggestion and have the amendment read a majority of the votes cast at the special election shall be necessary and not a majority of the voters of the city. However, if the amendment is lost I shall vote against the ordinance.

The amendment to call for a special election was put and lost, Alds. Doolin, Kennedy, Higgins and Vaught voting aye; Alds. Moore, McGinnis, Ticknor, Hildreth, Johnson, Babb, Cobb and Govela voting no.

The measure was then put on its passage and was adopted by all but Alds. Kennedy and Vaught.

READ THIS:

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, and will cheerfully testify to the public that it did me more good than all things else put together and am altogether another man. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

Why is Hercules Flour the best on the market?

First: Because it is made from the very best selected wheat.

Second: Because with the improved machinery we have in our mill it is free from dust and dirt. We let the dust collectors eat the dust and give you purer, whiter flour than any on the market.

Third: We have testimonials that will prove to you that it will make better bread, biscuits or cakes than any flour you have ever used. Try one sack and you will be convinced.

WILL BEGIN WORK AT ONCE.

Messrs. Mackey & Gardner said yesterday to a Journal reporter that as soon as the water ordinance was signed they meant to go to work at once. They intended to leave for St. Louis and Chicago and confer with men regarding the sinking of the wells, the construction of the necessary pipe and all that pertained to the undertaking. Mr. Mackey said he felt morally certain that he would have no trouble in getting the needed funds and the only thing that would prove a hindrance to the undertaking would be legal proceedings in the way of an injunction. As every precaution was taken to guard the city's interests and the chairman of the ordinance committee, Ald. Vaught, expressed himself satisfied with the measure, it would seem as if there was no cause for any action on the part of any patriotic citizen of the city.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Only one dollar to become a member of the Mutual Protective league. Call at Baker & Perry's store.

RACE FOR TRAIN.

Friday afternoon, as A. W. Cameron was enjoying the exercises on College hill a lady came to him in much anxiety, stating that in a very short time the special train bearing the celebrities back to St. Louis would start, and there were President Harper, of Chicago; President Jordan, of California, and Hugo DeVries, of Amsterdam, all due on the train. Would he take them in his auto to the junction in about two minutes. Glad of the distinguished honor, Ward invited the gentlemen aboard, drove into College avenue and conveniently forgetting all ordinances, had his honorable passengers at the station on time and received many thanks.

M'CORMICK SALE.

The sale of John McCormick Thursday was a success in attendance and prices. One well bred 2-year-old colt brought $125; cows brought $35 to $50; small sows, $11, and other property went proportionately well. Capt. John E. Wright was the auctioneer and M. J. Clerihan, clerk.

FRANK BYRNS,
Jacksonville, Ill.

The mayor stated in the council after the passage of the water ordinance that he intended before signing the ordinance to procure the opinion of lawyers in this city as to the legality of the bill, and would in every way endeavor to safeguard the interests of the city before signing it. We believe the city may safely rely upon him to do this and that every means will be used to secure for the city every advantage possible.

The passage of the water ordinance yesterday, we hope, marks a new era in the prosperity of the city of Jacksonville. The ordinance received the closest scrutiny and consideration from the aldermen and the result was a decided majority in favor of the measure. There were no party lines drawn. Each alderman voted from conviction and not from any party bias. For this the city is to be congratulated.

The meeting of educators from all parts of the world, which has been held in this city this week, celebrating the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of Illinois college, will undoubtedly have one important result that of bringing Dr. Barnes, the president of the institution, into closer relations with the people of this city and vicinity. However much they may differ with him as to the management of this public institution, there is no doubt they have a higher regard for his ability as an organizer and that they must admire his persistency and pluck in carrying to a successful termination the celebration, so far as lay within his power. Every citizen of this city most certainly desires the success of the grand old college, and one of the local speakers yesterday voiced the sentiments of a great majority when he said the time had come when "knocking" should cease and our people "boost" instead.

The city is to be congratulated upon having a mayor who has an opinion of his own and with having a willingness to let the people know what those opinions are, and with courage enough to be willing to assume the responsibility for those convictions. For these attributes John R. Davis, our mayor, should be commended and his course approved. He stands for public improvement and a progressive, prosperous city, and is ready to speak out in council or elsewhere for any measure which he believes to be for the good of our city or of its people individually. His is not the position of a trimmer seeking to adjust his opinions to every breeze, but a straightforward, open, honest fight for the good of the people and of the material interests of the city, and if he does not always wait for permission to speak it is because he believes the mayor of the city should be a man willing to let the people he represents (that is the entire city) know just what his honest convictions are. We honor a man of courage in war; why not give praise for the same qualities in the every day affairs of a city or of an individual?

"SHYLOCK."

In the forthcoming engagement of "The Merchant of Venice" at the Grand opera house, theatre patrons of this locality will be afforded their first opportunity of seeing that eminent young actor, Mr. Joseph De Grasse, in the role of "Shylock." Among those conversant with the subject it is very generally conceded that of all Shakespeare's wonderful character creations, none are more difficult of interpretation than that of "Shylock." In his portrayal of this most remarkable character Mr. De Grasse shows complete mastery. At the Grand, Wednesday, Sept. 28.

ANNIVERSARY CLOSED

Seventy-fifth Anniversary Exercises of Illinois College Are at an End---Has Been a Grand Event---Unequalled Gathering of Prominent Educators---Program Friday.

The celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of Illinois college is a thing of the past in fact, but in spirit it will live for years to come. The inspiration from such an occassion cannot be measured or estimated, but the presence of the loyal alumni, distinguished visitors and warm friends of the college will fire anew the hearts of all those who have the welfare of this glorious institution on their minds and consciences. The occasion has been a grand one and will ever remain a memorable one. The Yale band and the missionary spirit, those confluent streams that, uniting on the prairies of Illinois, brought about this institution of learning produced an epoch in the history of the state of Illinois and the middle west. Twenty-five years after the founding, the deeds of the noble founders were reviewed and again the purposes that marked the opening of the college were re-formed and a spirit of determination renewed for the further progress of the college. Fifty years of growth came and another celebration was held and now seventy-five years have passed and again the president, the trustees, the faculty, the alumni and the friends have drank deep from the stream of inspiration that has been flowing so bountifully and so widely for the past three days, and at its conclusion all feel that a new link in the historic chain that binds the present to the past has been forged to link us inseparably with the future, in a continued progression that will be as glorious as has been the achievements that have thus far been produced by the influence of this college.

The occasion has, indeed, been truly grand and its conception has been the product of one mind and in its working out the brains of one man have directed it to a most magnificent execution. That one man is none other than Clifford W. Barnes, the honored, beloved and respected president of the institution. He has had able assistance, but to him and to him solely must be given the credit for the entire plan of the seventy-fifth celebration. He is entitled and will certainly receive the unstinted praise of the alumni, the friends of the college and the citizens of Jacksonville for all that he has done in the past for the splendid work of the present and for all that he hopes and confidently expects to do in the future. The columns of a newspaper can but poorly and inadequately picture the proceedings of such a commemoration as has been held, but if they can in but a feeble way reflect through the cold type of the printed page, a small part of the inspiration that is to be gathered and drunk in from hearing such a distinguished company, such a galaxy of men who figure so prominently in the republic of letters, it will have done all it can. During the entire three days' celebration not a sentiment has been uttered but what was inspired from a lofty purpose and born of a desire to do something to lift up humanity and lift it up through the agency of the college, and particularly of the Illinois college. Such has been the spirit of the occasion, and who can doubt the longevity and the fructifying influence of such a spirit?

Of the many able addresses that were delivered Friday morning and afternoon, but a paragraph here and there is presented.

MORNING EXERCISES.

The exercises of Friday morning began with a procession of delegates, guests and alumni from the gymnasium to the new gateway erected by the women of Jacksonville in honor of Daniel Pratt. Pratt, a generous donor to Illinois college, and which stands at the College avenue entrance to the campus. The presentation address was made by Mrs. Thomas H. Worthington. In response President Barnes accepted the gateway in behalf of the college. After prayer by Rev. George W. Knox, of Union Theological seminary the procession passed to the convocation tent, where the exercises there began with a hymn, "A Mighty Fortress is Our God," splendidly sung by the anniversary chorus, the audience joining in heartily. Hon. Andrew Russel, member of the board of trustees, in fitting and appropriate language, then introduced President William Lowe Bryan, of Indiana university, who delivered a thoughtful and comprehensive address on "Education by Occupations." A synopsis of his splendid address is given as follows:

PRESIDENT BRYAN.

After fraternal greetings from Indiana university, the gentleman said in part:

"Every important occupation has been made what it is by a guild—an ancient guild whose history stretches back in direct or indirect succession to farthest antiquity. The great inventions and products of the day are not miracles, but the results of the workings of generations. And so it is the brotherhoods of labor—it is these grim brotherhoods, covered with grime and scars, that stand before you to day inviting you to initiation. It is necessary that the people make some occupation their lifelong business. Law books do not make laws, but attorneys and law-abiding people. Religion is not in a country because we have built churches and placed in them cushions on which to sleep once a week, but because of the presence of the Salvation Army and Bishop Brooks. The steel business is not in Pittsburg, but in the men who understand the business of making armor plate. In the far western village in which I live two men brought their classical learning and did more for the uplifting of the young than can be estimated. Institutions have brought to life industries that demand positions for many educated men and these have made possible the great enterprises of the present day. Art, which has been a guest, should and may become a citizen. There is a wide range of occupations from which you may choose. It is no light matter to make a choice; to elect for life some sphere in which you may live and work. There is no magic in a choice; no royal road to success, nothing but the path of hard work. If you love holidays better than work; if drudgery grows hateful, success [illegible] yours. A person must [illegible] and stay with it. The [illegible] place to place and [illegible] to another can [illegible] height. The [illegible] on being orig[illegible] past cannot [illegible] his fellows;

COLLEGE ANNIVERSARY

we must learn of the past and improve the future. We must not forsake the beliefs of our fathers in order to be wise; we must not seek wholly new paths in order to accomplish the greatest things, but wisely combine the old with the new. We should find joy in our work if we are to succeed to the greatest degree. In a generation that soothes itself with the thought that there is no hell, I am one who fears that its fire is leaping through every artery of society and yet I have never doubted that there is a spirit which may lead a man through any calling always into more of the life and freedom of the kingdom of God. Lay out your program and do not create a treadmill, but a ladder which, resting on the ground, stretches toward heaven. Delight in your work and have the joy of doing the best you had hoped and expected to accomplish; work while it is day and when night cometh be ready for the change."

The able address was heard with deepest interest and was received with applause.

AFTERNOON PROGRAM.

The exercises of the afternoon began with an academic procession, which formed at Westminster church and proceeded by Westminster, State and Park street to the college campus. The procession was headed by Jeffries' Concert band and was composed of members of the governor's staff, of the militia of the state and Company L, of the Fifth regiment, national guards, which acted as an escort. Following came the distinguished speakers, delegates from home and foreign universities, the members of the board of trustees, the faculty, alumni, members of the city government, the board of education, the legal and medical societies of the city, the anniversary committees and friends of the college.

Upon arrival at the convocation tent and after all had been seated on the platfrom, the anniversary chorus sang with splendid effect that grand composition of Haydn, "The Heavens are Telling."

GREETINGS SENT.

Professor Rammelkamp, of the Illinois college faculty, read a list of the colleges and universities who had sent greetings to the college on the occasion of the seventy-fifth anniversary and read telegrams and letters from many of them. Some of these greetings are presented on another page.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

President Barnes then delivered the address of welcome, and it was, indeed, an able introduction to the exercises of the afternoon, breathing lofty sentiments and ennobling thoughts. It is presented in full as follows:

In this prairie land of the middle west, despite its great cities and teeming commerce, there is so much of novelty in the celebration of seventy-five years of college life that we confess to day to have experienced a very real sense of trepidation when we invited you honorable gentlemen to attend this birthday party. Our years seemed many when compared with neighbors not far removed, but when we though of Yale and Princeton, not to mention those mothers of us all across the water, it seemed but childish folly to attempt to play for such as these the part of hostess. So, too, our equipment looked fair as long as we kept our eyes on the smaller colleges of the middle west, but when our invitations sought out the old colony states with their richly endowed institutions, and went away to those western slopes whose stores of gold have built great schools of learning, then indeed we realized our poverty, and how little prepared we were to do you proper honor.

"To him that hath shall be given," and the college which to day lacks honor and reputation is in peril for its very life. To a larger degree than you can realize, both the honor and reputation of Illinois college have been magnified and her future success assured by your presence.

My fellow members on the faculty bid

PRESIDENT BARNES,
Illinois College.

you welcome and express their deep appreciation of your visit. It is a far cry from the class room of the small college to the lecture halls of the large university, and there comes to us sometimes a dreary sense of lonliness and isolation. These days of pleasant fellowship have helped to bridge that gulf and we shall henceforth feel ourselves in closer touch with the great commonwealth of learning which you represent.

And may I speak you welcome for those noble ones long since gone from us, who being dead yet live and rejoice in this glad occasion: Baldwin, Brooks, Grosvenor, Jenny, Kirby, Sturtevant and Turner, seven strong sons of Yale who banded themselves together in the interest of Christian education in this land of "the Illinois"; Ellis and Lippincott, preachers and teachers when this was an undeveloped mission field: Edward Beecher, who counted his splendid church on the Boston commons but a stepping stone to the leadership of this pioneer college; all these whose sacrifice and heroism are to us an ever present inspiration, they greet you to day, and through me express their thanks for your coming. Nor should we fail to mention Post, Adams, Crampton, Tanner, Jones and a score of those whose lives have been so built into the very foundations of Illinois college that it must live as a beneficent force as long as their memory lasts. And so the number grows until there is a host whose words I voice in cordial greetings on this anniversary occasion.

Life and labor in the small college may not lead to wealth or power, but if it helps in any place to make the torch of truth burn brighter, if it brings to men those higher thoughts which lead to deeper consecration, if human plans and aspirations are shaped through it into forms divine, it then will merit such recognition as we gratefully acknowledge in these few words of welcome you are bringing to "Illinois" this day. (Great applause.)

The speakers who delivered the addresses of the afternoon were introduced by Judge Edward P. Kirby, member of the board of trustees, who, in a dignified manner and with eloquent words, voiced sentiments appropriate to the occasion.

MAYOR DAVIS.

The address of Mayor John R. Davis, of the city of Jacksonville, was a fitting expression of the feeling that was in all hearts, and extended a most cordial greeting on behalf of the citizens of Jacksonville. His remarks were greeted with deserved applause. He said in part:

"As chief executive of this city I wish to earnestly thank you on behalf of our people for your very kind invitation to be present and to participate in the festivities of this, the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of Illinois college. We, as citizens, are justly proud of old Illinois college on the hill. We are proud of its past history. We are proud of the many prominent and useful men it has given to the community, and we have a right to expect a great future for this college. We may well congratulate ourselves upon the dignified and proud attitude which Illinois college now presents to the state and to the nation. She has made more real and lasting progress in the last few years than ever before, a progress due in a large measure to the hopeful wisdom and tireless energy of President Barnes and the board of trustees of this college.

"President Barnes has extended to you, the friends of Illinois college from all parts of this country, a hearty welcome to our beautiful city. As mayor of this city, I wish to second that hearty welcome and wish to assure you that we appreciate your presence here on this occasion. You, the friends and neighbors of Illinois college, can be of great assistance to the future welfare of this college if you will. Where, under the canopy of heaven, could a more beautiful location be for a college of fame than this? Where could fathers and mothers select a better city, morally, socially and intellectually than this to send their sons and daughters to?"

HUGO DEVRIES.

The next speaker introduced was a man of international fame and whose contribution to scientific research has won for him the title of the greatest scientist since Darwin. When Prof. Hugo DeVries, professor of botany at the University of Amsterdam, arose to speak and to bring greetings from the universities of continental Europe, he was received with a storm of applause that lasted several minutes. Two short paragraphs of his splendid address are given:

"Science is a current feature of all civilization and is becoming more and more a unifying factor among the peoples of the earth. In Europe pure science is coinsidered the highest form. In America the practical side is given preference. These two phases of the subject, however, are not far apart, the pure and the practical, and so I am prepared to say that Europe and America are not far apart in their scientific research and investigation. The state of Illinois was among the first to recognize the co-operation and relationship of European and American science. I count it a great privilege to be able to bring to you to day greetings from the universities of continental Europe."

DAVID STARR JORDAN.

The next speaker introduced was President David Starr Jordan, of Leland Stanford, Jr., university. He brought greetings of the universities of the great west and said in part:

"It is worth coming all the way from California to Jacksonville to sit beside such a man as DeVries. I do not know much about Illinois college, and yet I know something, and I want for one to say that I will raise my hand in support of Clifford W. Barnes and that I will stand by a man so brave and will not from want of lending my influence see him fail. The independent college finds its place in the character of its teachings, in the character of its professors, and in the character of the men it sends out. The small college comes closer to the hearts of the people, gives the undergraduate student better attention and raises him to a higher standard than the large college can ever do. Do not try to seem big at the expense of goodness, and thereby lose your right to live. Be a small college, give each student full value, and you will raise up men who in the future will recognize their right relation toward society, the family and their God."

The splendid thoughts of President Jordan were received with great applause.

WILLIAM R. HARPER.

President Harper, of Chicago university, next addressed the audience. Two paragraphs from his address are:

"There is something sacred about the first born. There always has been. The first born is entitled to a special favor, and as I bring the greetings of the thirty-four colleges of Illinois, I want to say for one of them that I am in favor of extending to Illinois college, the first born, all the privileges and accord it all the help that I can."

"There is a common bond of interest between all the colleges in this state and in this nation. Yet it is a fact that the division of the state line has played a conspicuos part in the educational development of the west. Each of the states in the country have an organization that contributes its part toward the grand sum total, and this institution has contributed its share in the total of this state in a large measure.

GOVERNOR RICHARD YATES.

When Gov. Richard Yates, the son of the war governor, who was a graduate of the first class, arose he received an ovation. The able address he delivered with dignity and eloquence, was one of the most charming efforts of the afternoon, and the message he brought was inspiring in thought, lofty in purpose, and his utterances found a ready echo in the hearts of all present. A paragraph or two of his address is given:

Governor Yates drew a beautiful picture of the story of the band of four Indian chiefs, who came to St. Louis after they had learned of the Book from the Lewis and Clark explorers, who had been sent by their tribe to get the Book, which they had heard was in St. Louis. He told of how three of them died and how one carried the message to the tribe and then drew the comparison between the band of Yale students, who carried the Book and the Truth to the wild prairies of Illinois, and who heard the Macedonian cry of the young west and answered it. It is to be regretted that the address of Governor Yates cannot be presented at lenght, as it was one of the inspiring efforts of the aniversary celebration, and was heard with intense interest, and at its conclusion this honored alumnus of the institution was greeted with a grand round of sincere and hearty applause.

James Gore King McClure, D. D., president of the college board of the Presbyterian church, responded for the organizations of the church. He said in part:

PRESIDENT M'CLURE.

"It is exceedingly gratifying to be present and add my personal esteem to the president in the interest of the church. Every high and great institution that has been represented here, the church claims to comprehend them. The nation is under the fostering care of the church. It is the spirit of the gospel that animates the western states. In a sense it is the church that comprehends the purposes of today. The church has had her reward here. Illinois college has sent her representatives to all parts of the world."

JOSEPH MEDILL PATTERSON.

Joseph Medill Patterson, grandson of Robert W. Patterson, a distinguished alumnus of Illinois college, of the class of 1837, was introduced and spoke about the young men in college. He said:

"You have heard these leaders of men and distinguished alumni. I am not distinguished. These sages have given the view from above—a birds-eye view. I feel, being out of college but a little while, that I can give the view of the student or undergraduate. It is better for some students to travel and have an opportunity for an interchange of ideas. I believe there should be an interchange. The students of the south should come north and the north go south. Persons can learn by coming to this region instead of the east. Gentlemen, this is the heart of the country."

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Wabash Collectors — Engine Broke Down—C. & A. Work—Other Notes

Several changes have been made among the collectors on the Wabash running through this city. Mr. Pierce, who has formerly run on 22 and 23 and other runs, has been put on 8 and 9, which hitherto have had no collectors. E. Borches, from 22 and 23, has been assigned to 4, 1, 2 and 3, and his place is taken by Ernest Hughes, of the St. Louis branch.

William H. Volles, brakeman on Wabash trains 22 and 23, has received a sharpshooter's badge from Troop Commander P. D. Lockridge, his old commander while in the service in the Philippines. The badge was sent from Camp Stotsenburg, P. I., the new regimental post of the 13th calvary. Mr. Volles prizes the token very highly.

Samuel Walker resumed his work as car inspector on the Wabash yesterday, and Frank Koenig, who served during his illness, returned to Springfield. Mr. Walker has been furnished with a pneumatic jack for his work. It was tested Friday on an 80,000 pound car, and raised it with the greatest ease.

The anniversary special of three cars came from St. Louis on 20 Friday, which ran light for the purpose. Engine No. 33 was sent up from St. Louis to take the train back, and left here at about 4 o'clock, in charge of Conductor Schuman and Engineer Disel.

Car loads of sawdust are being sent from the planing mill in the Alton shops to the various water tanks along the road, the material being used to pack the pipes to prevent freezing during the coming winter.

Engine 133, in charge of H. H. Huff, drawing local freight 70, broke down Wednesday afternoon between Chapin and Markham and traffic was delayed two hours. The trouble was the breaking of the guide rod on the left side.

The C. & A. is cutting down the grade of the main line to fill in the sidings. The work is progressing favorably, under a large force, and will soon be completed.

The Burlington yesterday took out a car of flour consigned from the Brook mill to a Girard merchant.

The North Main street gates of the Wabash were re-wired Friday.

Engine 754 pulling Wabash freight took through two M., K. & T. engines Friday.

You must wait for Herman's grand display of fall millinery, commencing Thursday, Sept. 29

A GOOD RECORD.

The following is taken from a DeSoto (Mo.) paper of recent date, and is self-ex,planatory:

"Here is a short story of how a young man from DeSoto has met with success in Y. M. C. A. work. Three years ago Roy Brittenham called on Mr. Parsons at the DeSoto Y. M. C. A. and applied for a position. He was given the position of night clerk in a St. Louis Y. M. C. A. at $30 per month. Being a boy of less than 20 it was a hard test to leave home. In less than nine months he was promoted to assistant secretary of the East St. Louis branch, and by giving faithful attention to his work, he was soon promoted to a higher position. A short time ago he visited his parents, who live in Jacksonville, Ill., and upon returning to work was greatly surprised that he had been made secretary at the salary of $100 per month."

BABB OF IDAHO.

Among the goodly number of graduates sent out by Illinois college few have made a better record than James E. Babb, of Lewiston, Idaho, of the class of 1882, who attended the anniversary celebration.

After his graduation Mr. Babb studied law and practiced in Chicago until 1892, when he went to his present western home. There he has steadily risen in his profession and is one of the most esteemed citizens of the state of Idaho, and has been president of the State Bar association.

Mr. Babb is also a leading Republican and presided over the state convention in 1902.

In college Mr. Babb was a "Sig." and he has been looking for Charlie Schermerhorn, of his class, but he has gone to Chicago.

The westerner is much impressed with and gratified by the improvement he notices in Jacksonville. He is a brother of Mr. Charles Babb, of Homer, Ill., a member of the present board of trustees of the School for the Blind, and was a college friend of Governor Yates and Hon. William J. Bryan.

DEATH RECORD

DAY.

Mrs. Mathilde Day passed away at Passavant hospital Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Day was born on the Island of Madeira and was brought to this country when about two and one-half years old, and has since lived a useful life in this city. Her maiden name was Miss Mathilde Jacinto Menezes. Forty-four years ago she was united in marriage to Manuel DeFreitas Day. She is survived by her loving husband and two sons, Charles D., of Springfield, and George Jerome Day, of this city; four daughters, Mrs. Mattie Johnson, of Hannibal, Mo.; Mrs. Emma Rathbone, of Red Oak, Iowa; Mrs. Mollie Wood and Mrs. Lucy Moore, of this city; also one brother and three sisters. For fifteen years Mrs. Day was a devout member of the Christian church.

The funeral will be conducted from the Christian church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. R. F. Thrapp officiating. Interment will be in Jacksonville cemetery.

FUNERALS

MAJORS.

The funeral of Mrs. Richard Majors, who entered into rest Tuesday, was held at the Petersburg Christian church, Rev. Mr. Groves presiding. The pastor spoke tenderly of the long Christian life of the deceased and how she would be missed by her children. The choir sang beautifully, "When the Mists Have Cleared Away," "Just Across the Stream" and "The Sweet Bye and Bye." The remains were laid to rest in Oakland cemetery.

Mrs. Majors was born in Southampton, Eng., in 1834, and was a member of the Christian church for forty years.

Story of a Lead Pencil.

When I came out of the factory I felt very proud, as I was of a bright red. I first went to a man who put me into a window with many other pencils. After a fortnight I was sold to a little girl for 5 cents. She put me into a pencil box, and the next day she took a long knife and began sharpening me. I did not like this. It hurt me very much. She lost me one day, and a boy found me. He used me very roughly. He would break my point every time he wrote with me. And then he would sharpen me. At last I became so small that I could not be used, and I was thrown into a rubbish heap. And that was the end of my career as a lead pencil.

Game of Colors.

The following is a very simple game, but will help the time to pass pleasantly:

"I see a color you don't see," says one.

"What color may it be?" asks the other.

"It may be pink" (or some color in the room), says the first inquirer. Then begins the questioning. Is it the paper? The ribbon on your hair? The pink in the doll's dress? And so on until happily the guesser mentions the exact article of pink that has been chosen. The successful guesser then takes her turn at saying, "I see a color that you don't see."

Hide In Sight.

Hide in sight, a kind of hide the handkerchief, in which the object, usually something unnoticeable, like a small coin, is placed where it may be seen without removing anything—for instance, on the floor or on a table or chair. One of the players thus places it while the others are out of the room. The latter enter at a signal and begin to look for the object. As soon as any one sees it he sits down quietly, while the others go on looking. He who is last to sit down places the object for the next search.

Whistling Trees.

A species of acacia which grows very abundantly in Nubia and the Sudan is called the "whistling tree" by the natives. Its shoots are frequently distorted in shape by the agency of larvae of insects and swollen into a globular bladder from one to two inches in diameter. After the insect has emerged from a circular hole in the side of this swelling the opening, played upon by the wind, becomes a musical instrument suggestive of a sweet toned flute. The whistling tree is also found in the West Indies.

Our Nine Thousand Coast Lights.

There are 9,000 burning lights and signals stretched along the American coasts, forming a perfect link, so that the navigator need never be beyond sight of one of the beacons. One thousand of these are located on the Atlantic coast, 1,500 are scattered along the rivers and inland waterways, 500 on the great lakes and 200 on the Pacific coast.

The Conductor.

A three-year-old going to church for the first time was much surprised when he recognized one of his father's friends taking up the collection.

"Look, mother, look!" he cried. "There's Mr. Brown. I didn't know he was the conductor."

What They Are Used For.

"Now, Tommy," asked the teacher of a small pupil, "what are the principal uses of the bones in the human body?"

"They are used mostly to hang the meat on," replied the youthful student.

A Curious Notice.

The manager of a concert given in a small town instead of putting "Not transferable" on the tickets posted this notice on the door: "No gentleman admitted unless he comes himself."

The Difference.

In an apron of blue by the sand heap she sits,
And she makes the most wonderful pies.
She follows the brooklet that sings as it runs,
All under the sweet summer skies.
And mischievous breezes will linger, I ween,
To ruffle each wild yellow curl.
She croons a soft song while the hours slip along—
She's a glad little morning girl.

But when 8 o'clock comes, then, behold, what a change!
She wears a white frock, ruffled too.
She walks up and down in the very front yard.
And her slippers are shining and new.
In a prim golden row, not a hair out of place,
Can be seen every round shining curl.
Oh, long seems the time, and so slow drags the day—
She's a sad little afternoon girl.

Dear Sir: Please ask your WIFE, DAUGHTER or SISTER to Read MY FREE Offer.

WISE WORDS OF SUFFERERS

From a Woman of Notre Dame, Ind.

I will mail, free of any charge, this Home Treatment with full instructions and history of my own case to any lady suffering with female trouble. You can cure yourself at home without the aid of any physician. It will cost you nothing to give the treatment a trial, and if you decide to continue it will only cost you about 12 cents a week. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. I have nothing to sell. Tell other sufferers of it—This is all I ask. It cures all, young or old.

If you feel a bearing-down sensation, sense of impending evil, pain in the back or bowels, creeping feeling up the spine, a desire to cry frequently, hot flashes, weariness, frequent desire to urinate, or if you have Leucorrhea (Whites), Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Tumors or Growths, address Mrs. M. Summers for the Free Treatment and Full Information. Thousands besides myself have cured themselves with it. I send it in plain wrappers.

TO MOTHERS OF DAUGHTERS I will explain a simple Home Treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhea, Green Sickness and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young ladies. It will save you anxiety and expense and save your daughter the humiliation of explaining her troubles to others. Plumpness and health always result from its use.

Wherever you live I can refer you to well-known ladies of your own State or county who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all diseased conditions of our delicate female organism, thoroughly strengthens relaxed muscles and ligaments which cause displacement, and makes women well. Write today, as this offer may not be made again.

"By the use of your Home Treatment I have been cured of congestion, inflammation and displacement, which had caused much suffering from nervousness, headache and backache."
MISS LAURA WORTH, 613 Monroe St., Quincy, Ill.

"I had inflammation of the ovaries and polypoid tumors of the womb for six years, and doctored in vain. Your two months' treatment has made me sound and well."
MRS. JOHN W. HAINLINE, Minier, Ill.

"I used your treatment four years ago, and was entirely cured of a severe case of ulceration and falling of the womb, with congestion of the ovaries, causing agony at the periods. I had not known a well day for ten years and was confined to the bed most of the time."
MRS. GEO. ZIMMERMAN, 810 E. Seventh St., Alton, Ill.

MRS. M. SUMMERS, Box 405 Notre Dame, Ind., U. S. A.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The Regular and Reliable Chicago Specialist Will Be at the Dunlap House Tuesday,

Sep. 27th

Third Year in Jacksonville—Consultation Free.

The most reliable and successful Specialist in diseases of MEN AND WOMEN has visited neighboring towns since 1890, cures the cases he undertakes and refuses a fee from the incurables. This is why he continues his visits year after year, while other specialists have made a few visits and cease to return.

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Are you nervous and despondent; weak and debilitated; tired mornings; no ambition—lifeless; memory poor; easily fatigued; excitable and irritable; eyes sunken, red and blurred; pimples on face; dreams and night losses; restless, haggard looking; weak back; deposit in urine and drains at stool; distrustful; want of confidence; lack of energy and strength?—The Carson System will cure you or no pay.

Dr. Carson through years of experience has perfected the most infallible method of curing all diseases and weaknesses of men, youthful follies and all effects of abuses and excesses, improper life and solitary habits which ruin both mind & body unfitting for business, study, society or marriage. A perfect restoration guaranteed under legal contract in writing backed by abundant capital to hold for my promise. It costs no more to employ an expert than to risk your life with an inexperienced physician.

I ALSO CURE ALL CURABLE CASES of Catarrh, Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat, Lungs, Liver, Kidney, Heart, Stomach, Bowels, Bladder and Skin Diseases by a treatment that has never failed in thousands of cases that have been pronounced beyond hope.

To these maladies alone I have earnestly devoted 20 of the best years of my life. Physicians having stubborn cases to treat are cordially invited to consult with me. I make no charge for such consultation.

WRITE Describing your troubles, if unable to call, though personal consultation much preferred. Every case of Piles, Fistula, Rupture and Varicocele guaranteed cured without detention from business. Sexual weakness, Syphilis, Gonorrhoea, and Stricture a specialty.

REMEMBER DATE OF VISIT.
Come early as parlors are always crowded.

A friendly call may save you future suffering; it has made life anew to thousands who had been pronounced beyond hope. No cases treated by correspondence and no C.O.D. schemes.

MATHENY & LLOYD.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Wheat—Under influence of higher cables, wet weather in the northwest, smaller Argentine shipments than expected, there was fair degree of firmness at the start, but weak tone developed on the break in coarse grains. Later forecast by foreign crop statistician that requirements of importing countries this season would be the heaviest on record caused prices to advance excitedly and the close showed gains of 2¼@2¼c to 3¼@3⅜c.

Corn—Weak early on favorable weather conditions and more encouraging crop news. The market was helped later by the bulge in wheat and large cash demand, shorts covering, closing with gains of ¼@⅝c.

Oats—Weak, selling at lowest of the season. The close was ⅛@¼c lower. Liquidation was a feature, trade heavy.

LIVESTOCK.

Cattle—Receipts, 5,500. When enormous receipts of the present week are considered it seems surprising the market has been no worse than it has so far this week—81,800 have arrived, against 59,000 the same time last week. General demand mand has been remarkably good and purchases for shipment show large increase. Common and half-fat steers have declined 15@20c, choice having advanced 15@20c with strong demand. Best steers sold to day 15c higher than last week. Good to prime, $5.75@6.35; poor to medium, $3.60 4.50; stockers, $2.25@4.00; cows, $2.50@6.50; Texans, $3.50@5.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 13,000. With not enough offered to meet demand prices this week have ruled higher than last week. To day good lots sold at strong to 5c higher, but best figure was no higher than yesterday. Mixed and butchers', $5.60@6.20; good to choice heavy, $5.90@6.20; rough heavy, $5.50@5.80; light, $5.65@6.15; bulk of sales, $5.80@6.00.

Sheep—Receipts, 15,000. Bulk of offerings this week came from ranges and there is big demand from feeders and slaughterers. To day the only thing noted was a small decline in range of lambs. Others sold freely. Sheep, $4.00@4.50; lambs, $4.00 @6.00.

ONLY DID HIS DUTY AS HE SAW IT.

"I deem it my duty to add a word of praise for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says J. Wiley Park, the well known merchant and postmaster at Wiley, Ky. "I have been selling it for three or four years, and it gives complete satisfaction. Several of my customers tell me they would not be without it for anything. Very often, to my knowledge, one single dose has cured a severe attack of diarrhoea, and I positively know that it will cure the flux (dysentery). You are at liberty to use this testimonial as you please." Sold by all leading druggists.

CURE FOR SICK HEADACHE.

We had a letter the other day from a lady in the town of Boulder, Colo., that should be of interest to people who are troubled with spells of sick headache. She writes that she had these spells about four times a week, was obliged to go to bed and remain there from eight to ten hours each time. Had been troubled this way for several years, and the attacks became more frequent. Doctors did her no good; she tried dieting, as everybody said it was from her stomach. Seeing an advertisement of Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills, which said, they cure sickheadache by removing the cause, she decided to try once more, and sent 50c for two boxes. She said she had taken the last pill more than four months ago and has not had a sick spell of any kind for over five months. Druggists sell these pills at 25c per box. It only takes one for a dose, they cure sickheadache every time. Lee P. Allcott.

Passengers to New York, Boston, New England and all eastern points will find it to their advantage to ascertain the rates applying over the Nickel Plate road and its eastern connections. Three daily trains, on which there is no excess fare charged. One special feature of the service is meals in dining cars, on American club plan. Pay for what you get, but in no case over 35c to $1.00 per meal; also service a la carte and midday luncheon, 50c. Folders, rates and all information cheerfully furnished by applying to John Y. Calahan, General Agent, Chicago, Ill., room 298, No. 113 Adams street. Chicago depot, LaSalle and VanBuren streets.

SOUR STOMACH.

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. or sale by all leading druggists.

SURE CURE FOR PILES.

Itching piles produce moisture and cause itching. This form as well as Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles are cured by Dr. Bo-san-ko's Pile Remedy. Stops itching and bleeding, absorbs tumors. 50c a jar at druggists or sent by mail. Treatise free. Write me about your case. Dr. Bosanko, Philadelphia, Pa. For sale by Lee P. Allcott.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

Archbishop of Canterbury.

Right Rev. Randall Thomas Davidson, archbishop of Canterbury and primate of all England, who is now touring the United States and Canada, will attend the general convocation of the Episcopal church which opens in Boston Oct. 4.

Dr. Davidson has been archbishop of Canterbury since 1903, when he succeeded the late Dr. Temple. He bears the distinction, however, of having once refused the exalted office, having been offered the archbishopric of Canterbury on the death of Dr. Temple's predecessor in 1896. He declined the post at that time because of poor health.

The primate of England is a native of Edinburgh and is fifty-six years old. For years he has been intimately connected with the English court. He was a close friend of the late Queen Victoria and is most friendly with the reigning king.

Breath Was Like Clay's.

Representative Sulzer's resemblance to Henry Clay is commented on as usual everywhere he goes. Most of the comment is to the effect that there is no such resemblance. A New York man told this story in the Southern hotel:

"Sulzer heard that there was an old negro barber in Washington who in his youth had shaved Henry Clay. He went to the barber and got him to shave him. Sulzer did not say anything for a long while, expecting the barber to say something about the resemblance. When the shave was nearly over and the old man hadn't said anything Sulzer could not keep still any longer.

"'Sam,' said he, 'do I remind you in any way of Henry Clay?'

"Sam put the razor back in the case with much deliberation and hesitated for some time. Sulzer waited patiently.

"'Well, sah,' answered Sam at last, 'I think yo' does, sah. Yo' breff, sah, is pow'ful like Mr. Clay's.'"—Rochester Herald.

Commander of Army Maneuvers.

The army maneuvers in Prince William county, Va., Sept. 3 to 10, under command of Major General Henry C. Corbin, U. S. A., brought into the field the largest army ever assembled in the United States in time of peace. The place selected for the Manassas maneuvers, as they are officially called, was the historic field of Bull Run, the scene of two great conflicts of the civil war.

The army under General Corbin numbered 30,000 men, made up of militia from seventeen states, north and south, and all the regulars that could be spared from the division of the Atlantic. The army was organized into two divisions, the first commanded by Major General Fred D. Grant, U. S. A., the second division being commanded by Major General J. Franklin Bell, U. S. A. General Grant's force, known as "the blues," wore the regulation army blue blouse; General Bell's division, known as the "brown force," fought in the new olive drab uniform.

Major General Henry C. Corbin, commander of the maneuvers, at present commands the division of the Atlantic. He entered the army as a second lieutenant of Ohio volunteers in 1862 at the age of nineteen and served through the war, coming out with the rank of brevet brigadier general. In 1866 he entered the regular service as a second lieutenant. Since 1880 he has served in the adjutant general's department, of which he became the head with the rank of brigadier general. In recognition of his services and the part he took in the Spanish war congress conferred upon him the rank of major general.

FALL CLOTHES

Thinking of your new Suit or Overcoat?

Don't wait until the cold days are here and then hurry in somewhere and take what you can get.

Skip the hurry and worry by coming here now while the new Fall Suits, Overcoats, Hats and Toggery are fresh and in full bloom.

The best and most skilled manufacturers known to the trade build our clothing.

They couldnt make better clothes for love or money.

You'll find garments here just a little newer—just a little better—just a little something about them that makes them more desirable than the kind you get at most stores.

You'll like our clothes—you'll like our prices—you'll like our ways—for we never allow a man to be unhappy about anything he buys here.

Look or buy: we're ready when you're ready.

ANNIVERSARY CLOSES

mean to this community and to the world at large it means most to the alumni of Illinois college. This venerabl institution and all its noble traditions are their. These buildings and these grounds, these teaching and administrative boards, this classic environment the habilaments of an institution of learning are not Illinois college. They might pass away and Illinois college would live on. In the larger sense it exists in the character and the works of its graduates. It is known and judged by men it produces. Turn the leaves, some of them musty with age, and you will find in the enrollment lists the reasons why Illinois college has come successfully through seventy-five years of struggle to the encouraging and prosperous conditions which confront us to-day. The alumni are proud of their college and as a body can point to the results of which we hope the college need not be ashamed.

HON. HUGH WILSON,
Editor Railway Age.

"The cry that the day of the small college is gone does not depress us. We know what the small college can do. Ours is the experience which sanctions its continuance and support. The universal tendency towards centralization will affect temporarily many things to which the policy of centralized control can not ultimately apply. No doubt this tendency must leave its impress upon educational practice and policy, but it need not be wasteful in affecting economics. It need not extinguish the small college.

"Therefore our duty is plain. It stands out more baldy and nakedly on this anniversary day than ever before. The college needs, deserves and must have the whole support of the whole alumni body. Now don't get excited. I don't mean money. Please don't draw any checks here. I mean something which begets money, but which money cannot buy. I mean an aggressive, vivified, intensified college spirit, always ready to fight. I mean work. I mean that spirit born of a faith that moves mountains, a loyalty so great that it forgets its own opinions and works with its mouth shut; that spirit of battle which is blind during the conflict and criticises the commander only after the victory is won; that spirit that puts our college first because it is the best and the best because it is ours. Our college, large or small, rich or poor, right or wrong, but always and everywhere, our college."

The splendid address of Hon. Hugh Wilson breathed loyalty in every sentence and was an inspiration to his hearers. At its conclusion the audience joined with the anniversary chorus in singing the hymn, "Lord of All Being, Throned Afar."

ANNIVERSARY ADDRESS.

Judge Kirby, in the absence of Trustee Forgan, next introduced very happily President Cyrus Northrop, of the University of Minnesota, who delivered the anniversary address. It is with regret that the address of President Northrop, which teemed with words of wisdom and uplifting thoughts in every line, can not be presented in full. The speaker was greeted with great applause when he arose to address the vast audience, who were held spellbound by his utterances from his first to his concluding paragraph. A brief synopsis of his address is given:

There is something very charming in the atmosphere of a college and of a college town. This is true whether the college stand alone in a country village or form part of a university in a great city. But it is most noticeable when the work of the college is the leading industry of the place and its students are not yet lost in the masses of humanity already struggling for existence in trade, in arts, in professions and in manual labor. Then it is that the intellectual, moral and spiritual influence of the college shines with a gentle radiance like that of the evening star in the clear heavens. Its president and faculty and students all have a personality of their own and all exert an influence upon local life independent of the college as an institution.

PRESIDENT CYRUS NORTHRUP,
Minnesota University.

I am informed that in the faculty of Illinois college to day are to be found scholars who hold diplomas from Oxford, Berlin, Munich, Yale, Johns Hopkins, Cornell, Michigan or Northwestern university. This certainly is evidence of preparation for the best work that cannot be surpassed by many larger and more pretentious institutions.

I have not studied minutely the biographies of the graduates of Illinois college, and shall not attempt to present a catalogue of those who have reflected special honor upon their alma mater. It is eminently fitting, however, that I should mention a few as examples. One of the two men who graduated in the first class of Illinois college was Richard Yates, the war governor of the state. He ranks with Morton of Indiana, and Buckingham of Connecticut, and Andrew of Massachusetts, and Ramsey of Minnesota, and Curtin of Pennsylvania, and the other great war governors who held up the hands of Abraham Lincoln in the dark days of the civil war and by their energy in raising troops and their wise and courageous counsels made it possible to save the union and to destroy slavery. Illinois college through her first graduate, Richard Yates, did much to save the nation.

Newton Bateman of the class of 1843 is distinguished as the father of the state school system and they may both well be proud of each other. I recognize among the graduates the name of Robert W. Patterson of the class of 1837, for many years a distinguished and influential clergyman of Chicago, who was also the founder of Lake Forest college. He did much to shape the character and thought of the northwest.

Honorable mention should be made of my friend Rev. Julian M. Sturtevant of the class of 1854; of Joseph N. Carter of the class of 1866, a justice of the supreme court; of Bishop Morrison of Iowa, of the class of 1870, and of the present Governor Yates of the class of 1880.

Undoubtedly the most conspicuous graduate of Illinois college is William Jennings Bryan of the class of 1880. He has twice received the votes of more than six millions of his fellow citizens for the highest office in the gift of the country. A tribune of the people, earnest, sincere, courageous and eloquent, he has in the past swayed audiences, conventions, parties in a wonderful manner; and I hope that in the years to come his sincerity and persuasive eloquence and genuine patriotism may prove both potential and beneficent in defending the people's rights so constantly menaced, and that in noble service he may win new laurels with which to crown his alma mater.

The glory of our modern education is its adaptation to the wants at once of the race and of the individual. It provides for both the material and the spiritual wants of the student.

Civilization has displaced barbarism. Knowledge has driven out ignorance. Culture has improved nature both in the material world and in man. But the work is not yet completed. We have but to look around us and especially to study the social and political conditions of our great cities to realize the awful need of further improvement. Let us not act as if we had already attained either, were already perfect. Let us follow after that we may indeed apprehend and secure the highest things. Let us as teachers cultivate a spirit of candor and inculcate the same spirit in our students, remembering that they are to be citizens of the great republic and exert no small influence on its destinies. Let us teach them that no man liveth to himself—and therefore no man, least of all a citizen of this free republic, has a right to be merely a self-seeker. Let us train them to help to secure justice for all men high and low alike—opportunity for all men rich and poor alike—a real preparation for life and all that life means for men of every degree; and let us do our best with the help of the constantly swelling hosts of educated, patriotic, earnest young men, students of the colleges and the universities and the schools, to make for all men the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness what our revolutionary fathers declared it to be—an inalienable right.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

Candidates for degrees were then presented to President Barnes by Dean Frederick S. Hayden, Prof. John Griffith Ames and Prof. Charles Henry Rammelkamp.

The eminent fitness of the few sentences uttered by President Barnes in conferring the degrees evidenced his eminent ability to say the right thing at the right time, and although few words were spoken to each all were impressed by their deep significance and appropriateness.

The following candidates received the L. L. D., degree of doctor of laws:

Gov. Richard Yates.

Prof. Hugo DeVries, University of Amsterdam.

President William Lowe Bryan, University of Indiana.

Rev. James G. K. McClure, Lake Forest university.

President Cyrus Northrop, University of Minnesota.

Prof. John Martin Vincent, Johns Hopkins university.

President William Rainey Harper, University of Chicago.

President David Starr Jordan, Leland Stanford, Jr., university.

President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, University of California.

President William F. Slocum, Colorado college.

A CAMPUS VIEW.

Prof. Benjamin Wisner Bacon, Yale university.

The following candidates received the degree of master of arts:

Hugh M. Wilson, Chicago.

Joseph M. Patterson, Chicago.

The unusual exercises of a most unusual day, a day that marked the greatest collegiate gathering ever assembled in the west, and which President Harper stated outranked the bicentennial of Yale university in the number of distinguished personages present, was brought to a close with the benediction pronounced by President Barnes.

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION.

A fitting close to the anniversary festivities on the hill was the reception given by President and Mrs. C. W. Barnes in the college gymnasium Friday night. The brilliantly decorated gymnasium was filled with a throng of friends and well-wishers of the old school and President Barnes and his co-workers received from all sides the most hearty congratulations upon the week's program so well carried out.

Most of the distinguished visitors who have been the guests of the college during the exercises, remained for the closing event of the week and indeed they were well repaid, for the reception last evening was a brilliant one in every respect.

The guests numbered over one hundred and fifty and were received unassisted by President Barnes and his wife.

LUNCHEON TO GUESTS.

President and Mrs. Barnes entertained the distinguished visitors, delegates, trustees and alumni of the college Friday noon at an elegant luncheon, given at their beautiful home on the campus. The appointments were perfect in every detail and it was a most delightful social function and greatly enjoyed.

LADY PEGGY.

The Green & Lincoln company fully sustained the reputation they made the night previous at the Grand. Lady Peggy was presented last night and the play itself was greatly appreciated. The story of the play is a pretty one. To night the best bill in the repertoire, "The Matinee Girl," will be presented. This clever vehicle will undoubtedly please. It is full of ensembles, numbers and new and clever specialties will be introduced. A ladies' and children's matinee will be given this afternoon, prices being 10c for children and 25c for adults.
